

Tulsa Daily World

Published by WORLD PUBLISHING COMPANY.
EUGENE LORTON, CHAS. E. BENT,
Managing Editors, Business Managers.
ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE
NEW YORK, 225 Fifth Avenue.
HARRY C. GROFFITH,
CHICAGO, 1048 Poppleton Bldg.
TULSA, 1048 Poppleton Bldg.
KANSAS CITY, 200 Grand Bldg.
OSCAR G. BAYLES.

Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
Entered in the Tulsa Postoffice as Second Class Matter.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICES:
Express in Advance Only.
Domestic Foreign.
One Year $4.00 $14.00
Six Months $2.00 $7.00
Three Months $1.00 $3.50
One Month .50 1.75
Daily by Carrier in Tulsa.
Per Week $3.50

TRIPPHONES:
Business Department 1000
Editorial Department 1000
Circulation Department 1000
Advertising Department 1000
Phone Department 1000
O. H. Dent Office 1000
Advertising Department 1000

STATEMENT OF THE CIRCULATION OF
THE TULSA DAILY WORLD FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH, 1915.
Daily Average 12,999.

March 10	12,999	March 21	12,999
March 11 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 22 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 22 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 12 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 23 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 23 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 13 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 24 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 24 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 14 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 25 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 25 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 15 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 26 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 26 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 16 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 27 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 27 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 17 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 28 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 28 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 18 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 29 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 29 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 19 <td>12,999</td> <td>March 30 <td>12,999</td> </td>	12,999	March 30 <td>12,999</td>	12,999
March 20 <td>12,999</td> <td></td> <td></td>	12,999

Total number of copies printed and circulated was 12,999. Being divided by 28, being the number of publication days, gives a daily average of 12,999.
T. H. C. Holmes, circulation manager of the Tulsa Daily World, being duly sworn, upon oath, deposes that after carefully examining the records of the circulation of the Tulsa Daily World for the month of March, 1915, he has ascertained that the above statement is a true and correct statement of the circulation of the Tulsa Daily World for the month of March, 1915.
Subscribed to and sworn to before me this 3rd day of April, 1915. CHAS. E. BENT, (Notary Public)
My commission expires December 23, 1915.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any person who has been notified by the Tulsa Daily World that his name has been placed in the Tulsa Daily World for the month of March, 1915, and who has not been notified by the Tulsa Daily World that his name has been placed in the Tulsa Daily World for the month of March, 1915, is hereby notified that his name has been placed in the Tulsa Daily World for the month of March, 1915.

548 DAYS

Have elapsed since the day on which the city administration a month ago, would furnish a simple recipe of pure drinking water through the city water supply. The water supply is now being purified by the city water supply.

The intention of the Tulsa Daily World is to furnish a simple recipe of pure drinking water through the city water supply. The water supply is now being purified by the city water supply.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

THE MACHINE WANTS IT ALL.
The appetite of the Democratic machine is insatiable. It is not satisfied with the control of every department of the state government and a majority of the federal appointments. It wants everything in sight to the last office of office-holding capacity from the king pin down to the smallest swabstick in the corker's reach and every man's back of them is afflicted with the itch for office.

policy, however, involves the idea of expanding dominion, of which Great Britain is a notable exponent; but it is commonly maintained that such a policy is inconsistent with the American idea. There are thousands of Americans now in Mexico who wish they had never crossed the Rio Grande. They have been warned by Uncle Sam that they could not expect a protection which could only be accomplished by an invasion of Mexican soil. Their welfare and interests, however, are so bound up with their adopted home that to flee the country would mean bankruptcy and they would have to return to the United States as paupers and objects of charity. Besides, under present conditions of finance and transportation facilities in that unhappy land, it would be well-nigh impossible for them to make their escape, even if they were willing to voluntarily sacrifice the results of a lifetime's endeavors.

To those who have read the diplomatic note of this government to England concerning the status of neutral shipping there comes a feeling of grateful surprise. We have had so much of "waterfront waiting" that a clear-cut and unequivocal utterance from the state department is hailed with a sense of joyful relief. We are not anxious to become involved in quarrels with any nation, but that sentiment does not make us at all patient when we are being stepped on and walked over. There is a limit to imposing on good nature. John Bull is plainly notified that we expect him to be prepared to make full reparation for every act which under the rules of international law constitutes a violation of neutral rights. The note is couched in "friendly" terms and presupposes that Great Britain will take the necessary steps to prevent such violations. The United States refuses to admit England's justification in placing an embargo on all commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries, and adds that Germany's alleged infractions of international law do not justify England in seeking retribution. In other words, our contention is that two wrongs do not make one right.

THE LESSON OF CHICAGO.
Chicago has grown tired of the domination of the Democratic machine and the people have voted the election of a Republican mayor and a Republican council for the first time in ten years.

The citizenship of Chicago has long suffered from the corruption and the maladministration which comes from a long lease of power. When will there be a similar awakening in Oklahoma? When will the notable example of the people of Chicago be emulated by the rank-and-file people of the greatest agricultural and oil state in the union. Let it come soon, let it come soon, let it come soon.

AROUND THE LOBBY

With such hotel facilities as Tulsa has, combined with the public convention hall, this city should become the center of the leading conventions of the southwest. Remarked James R. Whiting of Kansas City at the Tulsa yesterday. "I have learned that your Commercial club is doing some good publicity work in boosting conventions for Tulsa. It is one of the best enterprises that body has charge of. Tulsa is destined to be a real convention city."

J. T. Milken, multi-millionaire oil and gold mine operator, is in Tulsa on business. He is stopping with his brother-in-law, Albert E. Patrick, at the Tulsa. Mr. Milken's income is reported to be around a million dollars a month.

W. K. Ewing of Roseland, B. C. is a guest at the Alexander. Mr. Ewing is a personal friend of R. T. Daniel, proprietor of the Alexander. Mr. Daniel met him at the train and showed him over the city in his limousine.

E. W. Payne, claim agent for the Santa Fe railroad, making his headquarters at Chanute, Kan., was in Tulsa yesterday. He is stopping at the Oxford.

E. B. Toomey of Bartlesville is stopping at the Brady while in the city on business.

Louis E. Bryant and R. P. Trinit of Big Heart are stopping at the Oklahoma.

Joe Wheat and L. W. Cain of Muskogee are registered at the Brady.

E. H. Galloway of Okmulgee is registered at the Oklahoma.

James A. Moscho of Cushing is registered at the Tulsa.

L. W. Gilliland of Holdenville is registered at the Tulsa.

T. J. Chambers of Stratford is stopping at the Alexander.

Thomas P. Tolson of Shawnee is stopping at the Brady.

W. R. Davis of Henryetta is a guest of the Brady.

W. G. Hendricks of Claremore is a guest of the Brady.

J. W. Doyle of Mannford is stopping at the Brady.

W. J. Horton of McAlester is a guest of the Tulsa.

the time has come to substitute another chief for Victor M. Locke, who has also served the Choctaws with conspicuous fidelity and ability. Their theory is that Locke has served the nation long enough. The old story of rotation in office is being worked overtime and is not without some effect.

But the man they are really after is Pat Hurley. They are hoping to reach Hurley through the defeat of Locke. They are trying to undo the work which Hurley has been doing for the past four years, which stands in a class by itself when it comes to cleanliness to common honesty, to unselfish sacrifice and these other manifold qualities which go to the making of a desirable official. We have too much faith in the honesty and the integrity of the Choctaw nation to believe that such a nefarious scheme will be permitted to go through. We have too much confidence in the ability of the Indians to recognize and reward those things which are for the protection of their posterity in the future. And should the hindrances succeed and should a legislature and chief antagonistic to Hurley be elected, the selection of tribal attorney must be approved by President Wilson and the president has already demonstrated his confidence in Hurley by approving his reappointment last year. And nothing has happened since then which should cause the president to change his opinion, either as to Hurley's personal character or of his tribal integrity and selflessness.

BUILDING PERMITS for two dwellings were allowed by the building inspector yesterday. H. R. Grewe has a permit to erect a one-story dwelling at 1018 North Denver to cost $2,500. J. L. Smith has taken out two permits for one-story dwellings at 121 1/2 North 10th and 101 1/2 West Second, each to cost $1,500. Mr. Smith says he contemplates erecting several more, possibly a dozen such houses this spring.

RAILROAD MEN of prominence who visited in the city yesterday were J. T. Cobb of Oklahoma City, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco; Norman R. Bishop of Oklahoma City, agent of the Pennsylvania lines; C. S. K. and T. D. Palmer of Kansas City, traveling freight agent of the C. & A.

JOHN SMITH, aged 30, who was picked up unconscious at the intersection of Broadway and the Midland Valley tracks yesterday at 10 o'clock and was taken to the P. & S. hospital, where his wounds were dressed, was conscious and said yesterday afternoon that he was a cook from Okmulgee, Okla., who had been from Okmulgee, Okla., for two weeks ago. He was arrested for vagrancy. Being intoxicated but feeling obliged to leave town, he was trying to catch a freight train to Catoosa when he was hurt. He had noticed that there was an abundance of work at Catoosa.

Dr. Larkins, osteopathic physician, third floor New Daniel building.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Three men, believed to compose a gang of crooks, which has operated in Tulsa by robbing houses, according to Chief Burns, were given long time sentences in the municipal court yesterday morning. It was the group arrested by Detective Northard near his home Monday night, composed of Jim Kats, alias H. J. Stewart, J. W. Tolson, and John Bubbler. Stewart was found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and fined $100 and 30 days. Tolson was charged with carrying a loaded chamberlain and was fined $100 and 30 days. Bubbler was charged with carrying a loaded chamberlain and was fined $100 and 30 days.

Jewelry valued at almost a hundred dollars, stolen from the home of A. H. Mayhew some time since, was yesterday recovered through the efforts of the police department at a local pawnshop.

Dr. A. P. Bryant, negro physician, was fined $10 in municipal court yesterday morning for disturbing the peace. He was alleged to have used strong language on a man of his own race after the latter had reported him to P. M. Crutchfield, Tulsa postmaster, because he had caused the negro some inconvenience in the disposition of stamps. Bryant has charge of the postoffice substation on Greenwood avenue.

Judge Clark announced yesterday that persons guilty of neglecting to connect up their sewer when ordered to do so by the city engineer would in every case be fined when reported to the police department. A negro was fined $10 for the offense yesterday morning.

Three negroes discovered in the attempt of taking six pairs of trousers from the Ooley Clothing company's store were captured by officers Belasco, Bewley and Northard yesterday morning. The Ooley had them in the store when the officers arrived. He had attempted to attract the proprietors' attention while the other negroes were taking the goods. Their names are Allie Rhone, John Lewis and Earl Williams. They are locked on investigation at the police station.

Agents Resigned.
This matter was settled, however, by the agents resigning. The company's financial condition did not suit the insurance commissioner, however, and it was about this time that the services of Ernest Carter were sought by the company. Mr. Armstrong said that he made arrangements with Carter to represent the company, that Carter had been recommended to him and that his arrangements were made simply for ideal services as he would employ anyone. He said he had understood that when he employed Carter that Welch did not like it. Armstrong said relative to the financial condition of the company that after his statement was made to the department and the commissioners complained about it, Armstrong assured Welch that certain transactions were about to be consummated that would place the company on a solid foundation. These transactions did take place and the company was not revoked.

Carter and Welch Friends.
A. L. Frazier, general agent of the National Surety company, said that he knew Armstrong and had been asked to recommend an attorney. He said that he recommended several, among them being Carter. Said he thought Carter was a good lawyer, was from Welch's home town and was a friend of Welch's. He said he understood that Carter had been successful in handling the affairs of the Union Mutual company and thought the case in point was similar. He did not know whether or not the company was formed by Carter. Frazier received the check sent for Carter and held it, according to an agreement between Carter and the company, to be paid when the services had been rendered. Frazier said that he did not know whether or not the company was formed by Carter. Frazier received the check sent for Carter and held it, according to an agreement between Carter and the company, to be paid when the services had been rendered.

Welch was charged with wrongfully continuing a license to Eugene Arnet, an agent for the Kansas City Life Insurance company, after he knew that Arnet was guilty of acts contained in complaints filed in the office. In this connection Fred W. Fleming of Kansas City, connected with that company, testified, Fleming said that he was informed of charges against Arnet and investigating found that Arnet was made by former employees of Arnet, who had been discharged for what he thought sufficient reasons. However, Welch was not inclined to believe as untrue the substance of the charge that had been made, and was of the opinion at one time that Arnet's license should be cancelled.

Appeals to Welch.
Mr. Fleming knew Arnet for a long time and knew he was a good insurance man. Friends and business acquaintances of Arnet also appealed to Welch not to revoke the license of Arnet, and upon a stipulation of Arnet that he would not make any more claims contained in the charges, he would continue the license of the agent. The matters complained of constituted unethical practice. Arnet agreed to refrain from the abuses complained against him, and his license was continued. No further complaints have been filed against him.

It was charged that Welch attempted to compel the Southern Surety company of St. Louis to make a loan for J. C. Wagoner, connected with one of the local banks. O. A. Wells, vice-president of the company, who lives at Muskogee, was the only witness examined on this point. Wells read a letter sent by Welch to K. H. Huckleberry, president of the company, asking the company to make a loan for J. C. Wagoner. Huckleberry, he said, was at the head of the state Democratic central committee and might some time be in a position to assist the company, and that Welch thought he, too, might be of assistance to the company. Huckleberry agreed to make a loan. The loan was made but as usual with the company, an indemnifying bond was required from Huckleberry before the company gave its bond to the Wagoner man. The company has made several such loans in the state, said Wells, and the requirements on all of them are the same.

Asked No Favors.
However, Wells said that before the bond was finally made he wrote his company and informed them that Huckleberry was no longer chairman of the Democratic committee. This was about the time of the change in chairman.

Wells said that his company had never asked a favor of the insurance commissioner nor received any. That he himself once wanted Welch to revoke the license of an agent who was charged with carrying a concealed weapon, and Welch refused to do so on the grounds that the difficulty was one to be settled by the courts.

With the conclusion of Welch's testimony this evening the prosecution completed its testimony on six articles of the impeachment. There are four more.

Morning Session.
Special to The World.
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 7.—The court of impeachment in the case of A. L. Welch, insurance commissioner, today departed from the regular order in which the articles were arranged and investigated the charges of the ninth article which alleges that Welch, through his office as insurance commissioner, attempted to force the American Central Life Insurance company of Indianapolis, Ind., to purchase certain loans from him.

Charles B. Woolver, representing that company, testified concerning the transaction. He said that Welch with Kelly Roach, the latter then representing the company in Oklahoma, sought to secure a loan from the American Life company some time in 1911, for a church organization in Clinton, Okla., in loan being $8,000. A contract for a loan was drawn up and agreed to by the insurance company. Later, Mr. Woolver, as attorney for the company thought that there might be some objection to completing the loan. He was of the impression that a similar law existed in Oklahoma as in Pennsylvania in which such a loan might be illegal because of the fact that members of the congregation of the church in question might be insured by the same company and the "inducement" feature might cause the loan to be held illegal.

Didn't Make Loans.
This matter was, however, taken up with the attorney general and parties assured that there was no such danger here. However, Mr. Woolver stated that he advised his company not to make the loan and they did not. Correspondence followed for a number of months between Welch and the American Life company concerning the matter, but the company never did make the loan. Welch, it was shown, had on the strength of the contract that had been made, secured money to advance on the loan and when he found that the company would not carry out the contract urged them to do so or he would have to shoulder the responsibility. The company finally added in placing the loan for Welch. These transactions were not terminated until after Welch became insurance commissioner. The fact that Welch was insurance commissioner, stated Woolver, did not influence him in adding Welch to the list of those who were to secure the loan from a Kansas City company. They felt, Woolver said, that inasmuch as a contract had once been signed, and then the company concluded not to carry it out, that in a way they were morally obligated to do as they finally did.

Woolver said they had never been favored by Welch after he became insurance commissioner. He told of having come to Oklahoma at one time to look up the matter with the company. They were having some trouble with policyholders near Weatherford. Notes coming due there were not paid and Woolver took the matter up with the insurance commissioner. Welch told him that he (Welch) would have to hear both sides of the matter. Nothing else was said concerning this matter in court.

City News In Brief

MISS AUDRY ABBOTT, trained nurse of Tulsa, who has pursued her calling in the city for several years, is sick and confined to bed at the Physicians & Surgeons hospital at Thirtieth and Carson.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the city commission was held yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed building ordinance. It is a bulky affair of more than 100 pages and will likely require several sittings of the commission to read it.

THE HOME of W. A. Brownlee, 613 North Cheyenne, was entered by thieves and a quantity of valuable clothing and toilet articles taken Tuesday night. The robbers gained entrance through windows. Police have investigated the robbery.

A. S. ABRAM, whose collar bone was broken in what he alleged to be a "double team assault" on East First street early yesterday morning, is reported by medical authority to be improving. Abram's face was badly bruised and he was generally disabled besides having his collar bone broken.

BUILDING PERMITS for two dwellings were allowed by the building inspector yesterday. H. R. Grewe has a permit to erect a one-story dwelling at 1018 North Denver to cost $2,500. J. L. Smith has taken out two permits for one-story dwellings at 121 1/2 North 10th and 101 1/2 West Second, each to cost $1,500. Mr. Smith says he contemplates erecting several more, possibly a dozen such houses this spring.

RAILROAD MEN of prominence who visited in the city yesterday were J. T. Cobb of Oklahoma City, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco; Norman R. Bishop of Oklahoma City, agent of the Pennsylvania lines; C. S. K. and T. D. Palmer of Kansas City, traveling freight agent of the C. & A.

JOHN SMITH, aged 30, who was picked up unconscious at the intersection of Broadway and the Midland Valley tracks yesterday at 10 o'clock and was taken to the P. & S. hospital, where his wounds were dressed, was conscious and said yesterday afternoon that he was a cook from Okmulgee, Okla., who had been from Okmulgee, Okla., for two weeks ago. He was arrested for vagrancy. Being intoxicated but feeling obliged to leave town, he was trying to catch a freight train to Catoosa when he was hurt. He had noticed that there was an abundance of work at Catoosa.

Dr. Larkins, osteopathic physician, third floor New Daniel building.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Three men, believed to compose a gang of crooks, which has operated in Tulsa by robbing houses, according to Chief Burns, were given long time sentences in the municipal court yesterday morning. It was the group arrested by Detective Northard near his home Monday night, composed of Jim Kats, alias H. J. Stewart, J. W. Tolson, and John Bubbler. Stewart was found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and fined $100 and 30 days. Tolson was charged with carrying a loaded chamberlain and was fined $100 and 30 days. Bubbler was charged with carrying a loaded chamberlain and was fined $100 and 30 days.

Jewelry valued at almost a hundred dollars, stolen from the home of A. H. Mayhew some time since, was yesterday recovered through the efforts of the police department at a local pawnshop.

Dr. A. P. Bryant, negro physician, was fined $10 in municipal court yesterday morning for disturbing the peace. He was alleged to have used strong language on a man of his own race after the latter had reported him to P. M. Crutchfield, Tulsa postmaster, because he had caused the negro some inconvenience in the disposition of stamps. Bryant has charge of the postoffice substation on Greenwood avenue.

Judge Clark announced yesterday that persons guilty of neglecting to connect up their sewer when ordered to do so by the city engineer would in every case be fined when reported to the police department. A negro was fined $10 for the offense yesterday morning.

Three negroes discovered in the attempt of taking six pairs of trousers from the Ooley Clothing company's store were captured by officers Belasco, Bewley and Northard yesterday morning. The Ooley had them in the store when the officers arrived. He had attempted to attract the proprietors' attention while the other negroes were taking the